Celebrating World Autism Day, Sunday, April 2, 2023

For Immediate Release

Bowmanville, ON

On Sunday, April 2nd, Autism Home Base (AHB) held an awareness presentation and luncheon at Trent University – Durham GTA. Over 125 dignitaries and community leaders were in attendance. Honourary co-hosts, Todd McCarthy MPP and Mrs. Kathy McCarthy stated, “We were so pleased to be a part of such an important organization that is helping to fill the social needs of autistic adults and their families. Sunday’s event was a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the unique talents and abilities of autistic individuals while creating awareness about how important it is to include neurodiverse perspectives in a truly inclusive society.”

“World Autism Day is an important day for awareness, acceptance, and appreciation to individuals across the autism spectrum. It is so important for everyone to feel connected to a supportive peer community. We work hard to build that community at Autism Home Base. Our families are stronger together.” says Judy Hanson, CEO and Founder of Autism Home Base.

Too many autistic adults and their families live in isolation. Autism Home Base is dedicated to changing that by providing opportunities for families to connect with peers. Through community-based activities, adults on the spectrum discover and share common interests and build a foundation for lifelong friendships.

Funds from this special event will help support the growing demand for the incredible programs and services for autistic adults offered by AHB. Go to autismhomebase.com for more information or to see how you can help.

About Autism Home Base

Autism Home Base is a registered Canadian charity serving autistic adults (18+) and their families in Durham Region, Peterborough, and surrounding areas. Through sports, rec and social programs participants meet in person at the AHB Hub, on-line, and in the community to explore new interests, build supportive peer friendships, share resources, and relieve social isolation.
